WHEELING JESUIT UNIVERSITY

Special Feature

2008 HONOR ROLL OF DONORS
Thanks For Making Our Dreams Come True
During our 50-year history, there are individuals whose courage and faith have inspired our spirit and urged us to achieve things greater than we could imagine, not for today but for what tomorrow may be among those inspirational leaders of our early development is Rev. William Troy, S.J. The Troy Legacy Society recalls the leadership of Fr. Troy and recognizes those who choose to make Wheeling Jesuit University a part of their legacy.

Becoming a member of The Troy Legacy Society is as simple as making a commitment in support of the financial foundation of the University through your will, a gift annuity, retirement funds, life insurance policies, trusts or other planned gifts.

Your gift will serve to build the endowment of the University, for purposes of importance to you or to areas of greatest need. You might support the scholarship of tomorrow’s students, or you might choose to support a program or academic major, or you might provide support that will maintain our Campus and facilities into the future.

Enjoy the satisfaction in knowing that you have perpetuated the meaning and value of Wheeling Jesuit University for the future!
YOU DID IT AGAIN!

For the third consecutive year, the percentage of alumni who support our students and the mission and vision of the University has increased. Twenty seven percent (27%) of our alumni make the University a part of their philanthropy- one of the highest rates among American Jesuit colleges and universities. Thank you to all who chose to participate in the 2007-08 BELIEVE Campaign for the WJU Annual Fund, and to those who will choose to participate this year.

Almost $1.8 million was given in support of the students and programs of the University, and new members were inducted into the Troy Legacy Society for making the University a part of their estate plan. Significant advances in the percentage of young graduates, reunion classes and alumni classes generally who gave, members of the President’s Circle, and athletic alumni give us great encouragement that our alumni and friends do “BELIEVE” in the University today, and its prospects for success tomorrow. You will see them in our 2008-09 Annual Honor Roll of Donors.

Our Alumni Relations Department continues to coordinate regional gatherings for alumni, events on campus, special services and digital and printed communication. It is important that our alumni, the most important stakeholders (next to students) in our success, have the most current information about the University, and each other!

As a private institution, we depend upon you to make the University a priority in your personal philanthropy. We cannot rest upon last year’s success— there are formidable challenges and exciting opportunities ahead of us in 2008-09. Will you join with us?

There is no shortage of need in the World, and philanthropic opportunities abound. We will continue to make our case to you that we are good stewards of your gifts and worthy beneficiaries of your support. Incredible things happen at Wheeling Jesuit University because of your commitment. If you don’t BELIEVE in Wheeling Jesuit, who will?

Thanking you for your faith in Wheeling Jesuit University, I remain,

Very truly yours,

Brent A. Bush
Vice President for Institutional Advancement

Leah Vereb
Paul Dziegielewski
I’m a 2008 professional communications graduate from Cleveland, Ohio and the third daughter of Lenny and Catherine Toth. My two older sisters are both WJU graduates. Maria ’05 earned a degree in business management and is now working as a client services supervisor for an Internet advertising company in Cleveland. Carol ’06 earned a degree in psychology and is now finishing her master’s in counseling at Walsh University.

Even though my two older sisters attended WJU, I’d only visited them a few times. After visiting other schools, I found that I just didn’t get the same warmth and welcome that I did every time I visited Wheeling Jesuit’s campus.

Whether it’s just walking to class or going out with friends for the night, WJU stays with us. Maybe it’s the simple hellos or extended visits in each other’s rooms, but this campus quickly becomes our “home away from home.”

Coming from Cleveland, a big city in comparison with Wheeling, I didn’t know what to expect. I was a bit homesick the first semester at WJU, but the more I got involved, the more WJU felt like home. Kairos retreats, choir concerts, theatre performances and more left me with fond memories that I carry with me today.

Kairos is a great example of the wonderful opportunities for both Catholic and non-Catholic students to grow as a community and learn more about their relationships with God, themselves and others.

I call my professors friends, and went to them not only for advice on class lessons or projects, but also for advice about my future and the obstacles that I encountered with my day-to-day college life. I often witnessed students talking to their professors in the halls, teachers eating with students at the Kiosk, and just saying hello.

Whether Catholic or not, the Jesuit education offered here in the small school setting is appealing to anyone desiring an education in life, leadership, and service — at a campus that you will call “home.”
Class of 2008 Participate in Giving Initiative

Class of 2008 President Jennifer Mackin recognized the value of her Jesuit education and felt inspired to give back to her alma mater and was determined to raise the bar of participation among young alumni.

With the help of Dr. Johnathon Lief, professor of biology, and the Office of Institutional Advancement, Mackin introduced the Cardinal 5 Society. Through the new society, Mackin asked her class of 2008 to commit to a pledge $10 a year over the next five years for a total gift of $50.

“Young alumni want to give back but may not have the means to make a large contribution—Cardinal 5 gives them the opportunity to participate and support their alma mater,” Mackin explained.

With the encouragement of Mackin and Dr. Lief, total class participation increased from 4 percent in 2007 to 56 percent in 2008.

Your gift to Wheeling Jesuit University might be more valuable than you think!

Many employers today want to partner with their employees in support of their favorite non-profit organization. In fact, more than 500 companies and corporate foundations currently match their employees' charitable gifts.

If your employer sponsors a matching gift program, your gift will be matched by your employer in some proportion, often dollar for dollar. You can see that a matching gift from your employer is an important and easy way to multiply the impact of any contribution that you make.

Corporate matching-fund gifts are an important source of revenue for Wheeling Jesuit University's Annual Fund. In some cases, corporate support matches, doubles, and even triples the gifts we receive from their employees.

If you are interested in partnering with your employer to make a matching gift contribution to Wheeling Jesuit, inform your human resources department. After you complete the appropriate form, return it to:

Wheeling Jesuit University,
Office of Institutional Advancement
316 Washington Avenue, Wheeling, WV 26003
Attention: Sharon Perry

We will remit the form to your employer. If you have questions about matching gift companies, contact Sharon Perry at (304) 243-8172.

Schenk Foundation Supports Global Service

The Albert and Kathleen Schenk Family Foundation continues to believe that charity begins at home. A long-time advocate and supporter of social, educational, cultural and social projects that benefit the Northern Panhandle of West Virginia, the Schenk Foundation has become a leading benefactor of Wheeling Jesuit’s physical therapy service projects in impoverished areas of Mexico, especially in the town of Mérida.

The integration of cultural competence in physical therapy education has become a focal point in mainstream and unconventional entry-level curricula. Parallel to this fundamental standard are issues centered on service learning. The two topics intersect providing students and faculty with experiences aimed at increasing awareness of and sensitivity for cultural diversity – distinctive traits encountered in physical therapy.

Having successfully implemented a service-learning component in the physical therapy curriculum for the past seven years, Wheeling Jesuit’s, physical therapy department is at the forefront and cutting edge of cultural competence and service learning in physical therapy education.

Service learning at WJU is addressed at the local, regional, and international levels. The international service learning experience for physical therapy students takes place in Mérida, Mexico.

During the second week of February, physical therapy students and faculty, as well as other faculty and professionals, travel to Mexico’s Yucatan peninsula to provide aid in this region. Under the supervision of a faculty member, groups of students and professionals are assigned to one of five service locations: the Patronato, a school/ rehabilitation center for children with disabilities; the Albergue, a shelter for the homeless; Celerain, a nursing home; Hospital de Amistad, a children’s hospital; and various outpatient clinics associated with the Universidad Autonóma de Yucatán.

Additionally, local service learning experiences are integrated into the DPT curriculum during the first year of the program. Students and faculty are assigned to various sites including The Catholic Neighborhood Charities, Wheeling Hospital’s dialysis center and extended care unit, Wheeling Health Right, Northwood Health System and Howard Long Wellness Center.

The regional service-learning component takes place during the summer of the first academic year. Students have the opportunity to spend one week at the University’s retreat facility in a rural county in West Virginia. The focus of the regional service learning experiences includes work on projects at Headstart, county health departments, women’s health clinics and home visits.
Two years since the establishment of the Wheeling Jesuit University Institute for the Study of Capitalism and Morality, the Branch Banking and Trust Company (BB&T) continues to impact the educational experience of students. In 2005, BB&T awarded the University $700,000 to establish the Institute for the Study of Capitalism and Morality, which is dedicated to a presentation of all aspects of capitalism and the promotion of an in-depth examination of a free society.

Since its inception, the Institute annually sponsors lectures, seminars and undergraduate courses to advance the mission of providing a deeper understanding of the moral, legal and economic foundations. The speakers program provides a series of forums for discussing issues regarding capitalism and morality, business ethics, and related issues. Eight speakers have appeared on campus in the past two years.

The entire Wheeling Jesuit community and the community at large are invited to engage in programs and activities designed to stimulate discussion of these topics. The Institute promotes activities which foster an all-inclusive discussion on such topics as:

- The moral structure of a free society
- The role of government in a capitalistic society
- The relationship between government and the individual
- The relationship between intellectual and economic freedom
- The various philosophies of capitalism and economic development

Jacober Scholarship Recipient for 2008 is Manassas, Va. Senior Josh Reed

Dr. Gregory S. Merrick, leading international cancer treatment specialist and executive director of the Urologic Research Institute, and university president, the Rev. Julio Giulietti, S.J., have announced that Joshua Reed is the 2008 recipient of the Jacober scholarship.

The Jeffrey M. Jacober Scholarship Fund at the university was established in 2007 for students studying in the field of physics. Created by the family of Rhode Island businessman Jeffrey M. Jacober, it provides annual support to a deserving physics student at the university while offering practical experience at the Schiffler Cancer Center at Wheeling Hospital. A senior, Reed, is from Manassas, Va. and is the son Terry and Mary Reed. He spent the summer working at the Urologic Research Institute as part of his scholarship award.

"The special collaboration between the Urologic Research Institute and Wheeling Jesuit University is a unique model that demonstrates the rich learning that can happen when academic study and rigor are applied in practical experience. The vision of Dr. Merrick and his team improves our university and, in fact, the medical world as research and learning are brought together to combat the terrible disease that cancer is," said Giulietti.

Jacober was founder and CEO of the Ocean Group, Inc., the parent corporation of medical accessory company, MEDport LLC, established in 1999. A true entrepreneur, Jacober was a resident of Providence, Rhode Island and a graduate of the University of Rhode Island. In 2004, he was diagnosed with prostate cancer and embarked on an exhaustive search to find treatment for his condition, thus becoming a patient of Dr. Gregory S. Merrick at The Schiffler Cancer Center.

He sought to educate the public about health care throughout his life. Though his plans didn’t come to fruition due to his tragic accidental death, this scholarship was established in his name to recognize his intent and belief that research is a key factor in health, and education is paramount.

Wheeling Jesuit University students and professors of physics play a key role at Wheeling Hospital’s Urologic Research Institute. In a unique relationship, students are given an opportunity to work along side of medical professionals, performing innovative research and participating in practical treatment of patients with cancer.

The Schiffler Cancer Center, the Urologic Research Institute, and Wheeling Jesuit University focus on innovative research methods directed toward the effective prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of prostate cancer and other urologic disorders.

The university has established a concentration in medical physics and dosimetry for physics majors. This concentration includes two courses taught by the Wheeling Hospital staff – one at Wheeling Hospital and one at the campus.

"This is a rather unique opportunity for our physics majors, who will have opportunities to do cutting-edge research and internships at the hospital, and they will learn from the country’s leading urologic radiation oncologists. Patients from 34 states and 12 foreign countries have sought Dr. Merrick’s expertise for treating prostate cancer," said Dr. Peter Ehni, chair of Wheeling Jesuit’s Department of Physics.
